FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

CHARLESTON, IL--At the Twelfth Annual Assembly of the State Universities Annuitants Association Dr. Rudolph Anfinson was named president for the 1983-84 fiscal year. He is a former Eastern Illinois University administrator and professor and is currently associated with Unfinished-Unfinished, a retail store in downtown Charleston.

The meeting was held at Allerton House, Monticello, July 6-7. About 60 delegates, representing all the State universities and community colleges of Illinois, were in attendance.

Mrs. Doris Robinson of Charleston, formerly an employee in the Personnel Office at Eastern, was elected secretary. Dr. Logan Cobb also of Charleston, a professor emeritus of foreign languages, was appointed to chair the Public Relations Committee.

Other officers of the State Association are Dr. William Froom of De Kalb, president elect, and Dr. Lee Dulgar of Homewood, treasurer.

Representing the Eastern Illinois University chapter of the Association at the Allerton meeting were the following: Dr. Lawrence Ringenberg, chapter president, who was Eastern's Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences for many years; Dr. Lorene Ziegler, an Eastern professor emerita of education; Mrs. Robinson; and Dr. Anfinson.

Guest speakers at the Annual Assembly were Mr. Thomas Wall, Manager of the Group Insurance Division, Springfield; Mr. Charles Hundley, Associate Director of the State Universities Retirement System; Mr. Donald Hoffmeister, Executive Director of the State Universities Retirement; and the Honorable Terry Bruce, Senator from the 54th District and chairman of the Illinois Employees Insurance Advisory Commission.
